

INTELLIGENCE SUPPORT DIVISION

I. Mission

The Chief, Intelligence Support Division, is responsible for the coordination of the NIS and map intelligence activities of the Agency and for furnishing such intelligence support to CIA and the intelligence components of the Federal Government as can be provided by these facilities.

II. Functions

The Chief, Intelligence Support Division, shall:

- A. Prepare, coordinate, maintain and supervise the execution of approved comprehensive interdepartmental NIS production plans. Such plans shall provide for meeting the foreign intelligence requirements of the Government, for an integration of the Governmental foreign intelligence production effort, and for allocation of production responsibilities among participating agencies.
- B. Provide a centralized facility for foreign geographic and map intelligence, including the maintenance of necessary reference facilities.
